Rev. Robert S. MacArthur, the wellknown Baptist clergyman, has had an interest in a drug store and soda-water counter at Seventh avenue and Fiftyseventh street for the past few months. a'ne minister's connection with the store became known through a sum-District Court. Theodore Willich & Co. manufacturers of pill boxes, had a bill of $83.30 against the proprietor of the store which they were unable to collect. They put the matter in the hands of Lawyers Baggott & Ryal, of 309 Broad-

The drug store in question was formerly owned by Charles F. Bailey, who ordered the supplies of Willich & Co. last December.

Shortly afterwards, it is said, Bailey troubles, and the supplies of the said of the said troubles. Col. Waring had a long talk with the Mayor this afternoon, and it was correctly surmised that the Colonel's connection with the Company was one of the subjects talked about.

When asked if this was so, the Mayor admitted that it was. Asked if Col. Waring had given a satisfactory explanation of the matter, the Mayor said: "Go and ask the Colonel about that lie is the man to see."

The drug store in question was formerly owned by Charles F, Bailey, who ordered the supplies of Willich & Co. last December.

Shortly afterwards, it is said, Bailey and it was Archiv settled the judgments against Bailey and took a bill of sale of the store.

Willich & Co. sent several times to he store to collect their bill, but could ever find Bailey there. They did not never find Bailey there. They did not know of the transfer.

Finally they placed their claim in the hands of the lawyers, who learned that Dr. MacArthur was really the owner of the store. A collector was sent to him, and, it is said, he referred the collector to his lawyer.

Lawyer Baggott thought a quicker and more effective way of proceeding would be to have a summons served on Dr. MacArthur requiring him to appear in court. This was done and the clerk who served Dr. MacArthur said he was very indignant.

Within a few hours after the summons was served on the clergyman, Charles F. Bailey called at the lawyer's office, and paid the claim in full. The proceedings were then, of course, dropped.
